Electric Services

For more than 100 years, we’ve been providing reliable electric service to the residents and businesses of Ames. Our electric distribution crews are located right here in Ames, so we handle service requests promptly and provide a quick response in the event of an outage.

Our rates are lower than those of surrounding electric utilities. As a community-owned public power system, we are not here to maximize profits but to provide an essential service. The benefits of our low rates extend to industrial, commercial and residential customers.

Electric Services also offers, as part of the Smart Energy program, educational opportunities, incentives, and rebates to help residential and commercial customers conserve energy and save money. Smart Energy is one of the City of Ames’ EcoSmart programs. To learn more, please visit us at www.cityofames.org.

Water & Pollution Control

Dating back to 1891, the Water and Pollution Control Department has grown to service more than 14,000 homes and businesses in Ames including Iowa State University. Our purpose is to protect public health, safety, and the environment by providing high quality drinking water and treating wastewater to safe levels before discharge.

The Water Plant continues to be recognized statewide for its quality and taste. In addition, our Water Pollution Control facility has been recognized nationally for its long record of compliance history. Delivering an exceptional product at a low cost to the consumer is our main goal.

Water and Pollution Control has launched a Smart Water campaign designed to promote conservation. Offering simple tips, the program encourages residents to “commit to conservation.” For more information, visit us at www.cityofames.org/waterweb.

When you want to taste, touch, hug and hold...experience...
Iowa State University is the heart of Ames. It’s an international university campus that could be mistaken for a national park. It’s a leading technology and research center enriched by art, worthy of a fine museum. It has a 150-year history of leadership, scholarship and contribution to the world.

FOCUSED ON THE STUDENT
More than 27,900 students call Iowa State University home. They come from all 50 states and over 100 countries to study, grow and discover their passion. The Iowa State University adventure opens their eyes to endless possibilities. Students choose from 100+ majors from seven colleges including liberal arts and sciences, engineering, business, human sciences, design, agriculture and life sciences and veterinary medicine.

CULTURE
A stroll around campus will lift your spirits. Iowa State University is home to over 600 public works of art from some of the world’s most renowned artists. Stroll through Reiman Gardens, a national rose garden winner, and get up close with exotic butterflies in the Reiman Butterfly Wing. Stop by the Durham Center where you can learn how the ABC, the world’s first electronic digital computer, was invented right here on campus from 1939 through 1941, by professor John Vincent Atanasoff and his graduate student Clifford Berry. A working replica of the ABC, built by Iowa State professors and Ames Laboratory scientists is normally part of the exhibit, but currently is on loan to the Computer History Museum in Mountain View, California. Every noon, you can hear a live carillon concert on central campus and just steps away you can visit the Christian Petersen Art Museum and the Farm House Museum. At Jack Trice Stadium, walk through the All-American Grove, honoring Iowa State athletes. In the evening, catch a production at Stephens Auditorium or Fisher Theatre where the performing arts come alive.

GO CYCLONES
Big 12 Conference athletics keep life exciting in Ames. The Iowa State Cyclones host 18 men’s and women’s sports. On any fall Saturday you’ll see thousands of fans dressed in cardinal and gold cheering on the Cyclone football team. After football, Hilton Magic takes over. Men’s and women’s basketball, gymnastics and wrestling bring a fever pitch to campus. While you’re in Ames, please take some time to experience Iowa State University. You’re always welcome here. Enjoy your Iowa State adventure.
